Description

This detached villa in Tersefanou, Cyprus is ready for immediate occupancy and comes fully furnished. Internal space totals 155 square meters, arranged across three bedrooms and two bathrooms, with the accommodation presented at penthouse level and served by an elevator. The layout suits a household settling in without delay, since furnishings and finishes are already in place.

The bedrooms and bathrooms occupy the upper level, reached by the elevator noted in the listing, which is a practical detail for a top-floor unit. Living space is fully furnished throughout, so a buyer can move straight in without arranging fittings or furniture.

The property is close to a highway, which makes travel beyond Tersefanou straightforward, and close to amenities, putting everyday shopping and services within easy reach.

Tersefanou is a village in the Larnaca District of Cyprus, set on the flat coastal plain that characterizes much of this part of the island. Its built fabric is low-rise, with a traditional village core and newer housing on its edges, typical of settlements of its size in the district. A village of this scale generally carries a basic pattern of everyday amenities and road access rather than the density of a town center. The flat, open terrain of the area gives a wide, uninterrupted outlook rather than any hemmed-in feel, and the highway proximity noted for this property fits with the village's position along the district's main road network.
